MENDEL CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL

FR. O'NEILL NEW RE

ONENESS, SANCTITY, AMBITION

KEYNOTE OPENING ADDRESS

O.S.A., the monogram of the Order of Saint Augustine, was used by Father Martin O'Neill as the keynote in his opening address to the student body of Mendel Catholic High School.

He suggested that these letters might very well stand for three virtues which he knew existed within the student body of the school. These virtues were Oneness, Sanctity, and Ambition.

Though Mendel does not as yet have a very long history, its past is already filled with many almost legendary tales of the spirit of Mendel. The Oneness, Sanctity, and Ambition of the students of Mendel are most apparent on the campus, where the students as a group can be seen practicing these virtues. These qualities are also well known to the citizens in the neighboring communities, who upon many occasions have commented upon the exemplary actions of the Men of Mendel.

And the spirit of Mendel is known even in distant parts of the land, as friends of Mendel relate the past accomplishments of the Monarchs, which have been made possible by the Oneness, Sanctity, and Ambition of the Men of Mendel.

ADMINISTRATION BRINGS CHANGES TO MENDEL LIFE

With the new administration at Mendel came many changes in the routine of the school. Most notable among these were changes in the administrative personnel, changes in the student's religious schedule (See Religion Section), and changes in the class and teacher schedules (See Education Section).

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

CTOR

FATHER O'NEILL A DEDICATION

The new rector of Mendel came to Chicago for his first assignment as an Augustinian and thus is not a stranger to the city.

Though he was born, bred, and educated in the East, and has held positions of importance in the Augustinian order in the West, it is here to mid-America, and to Mendel, that he has returned, bringing his talents which have been so apparent in the past year.

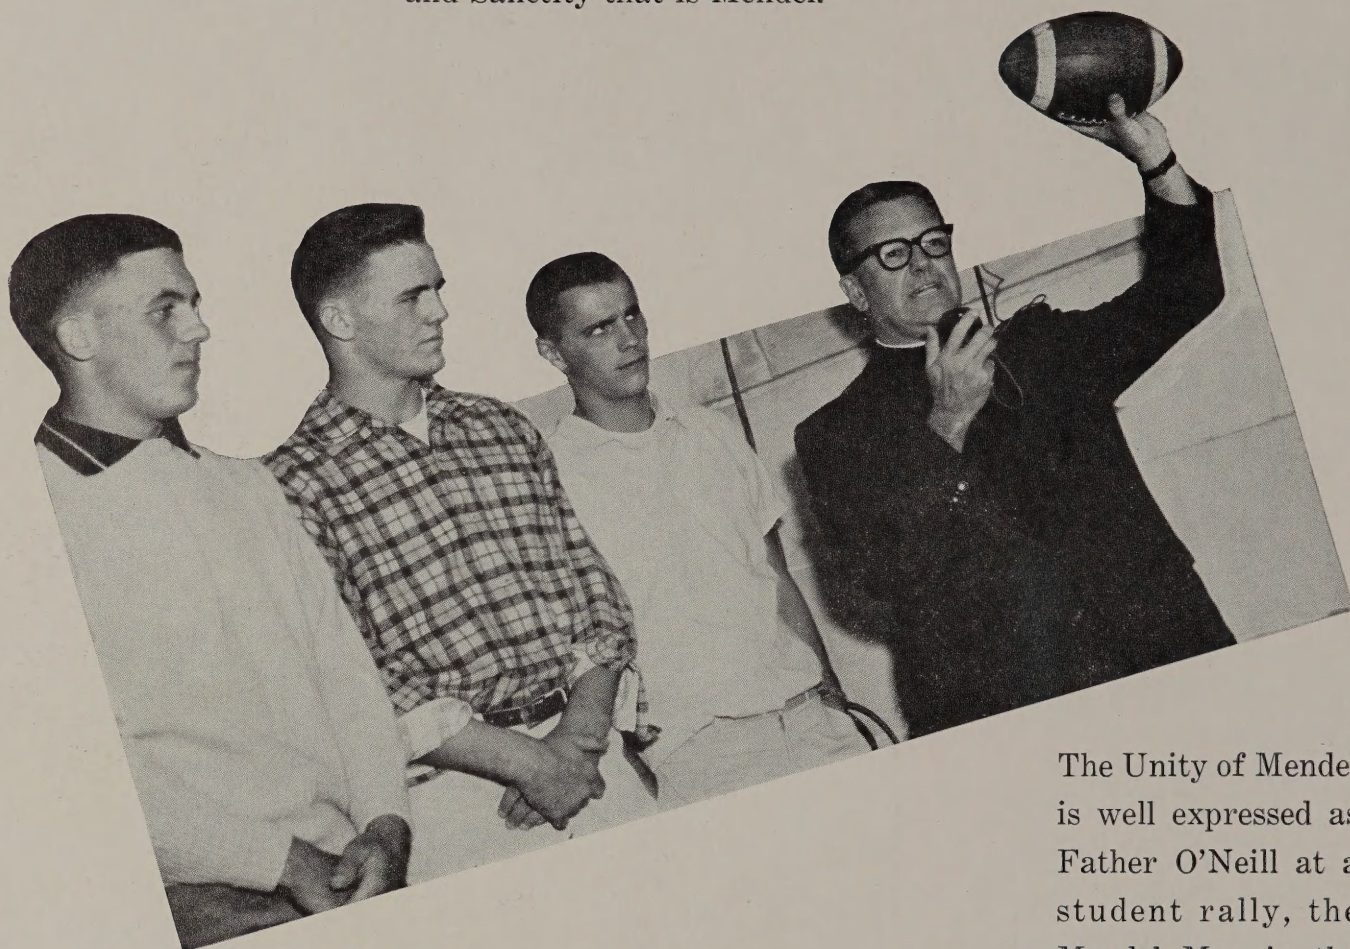

For this reason the staff of the Monarch 1960 and the students of Mendel dedicate this annual to Father Martin J. O'Neill, O.S.A., and follow his theme of Oneness, Sanctity, and Ambition throughout its pages.

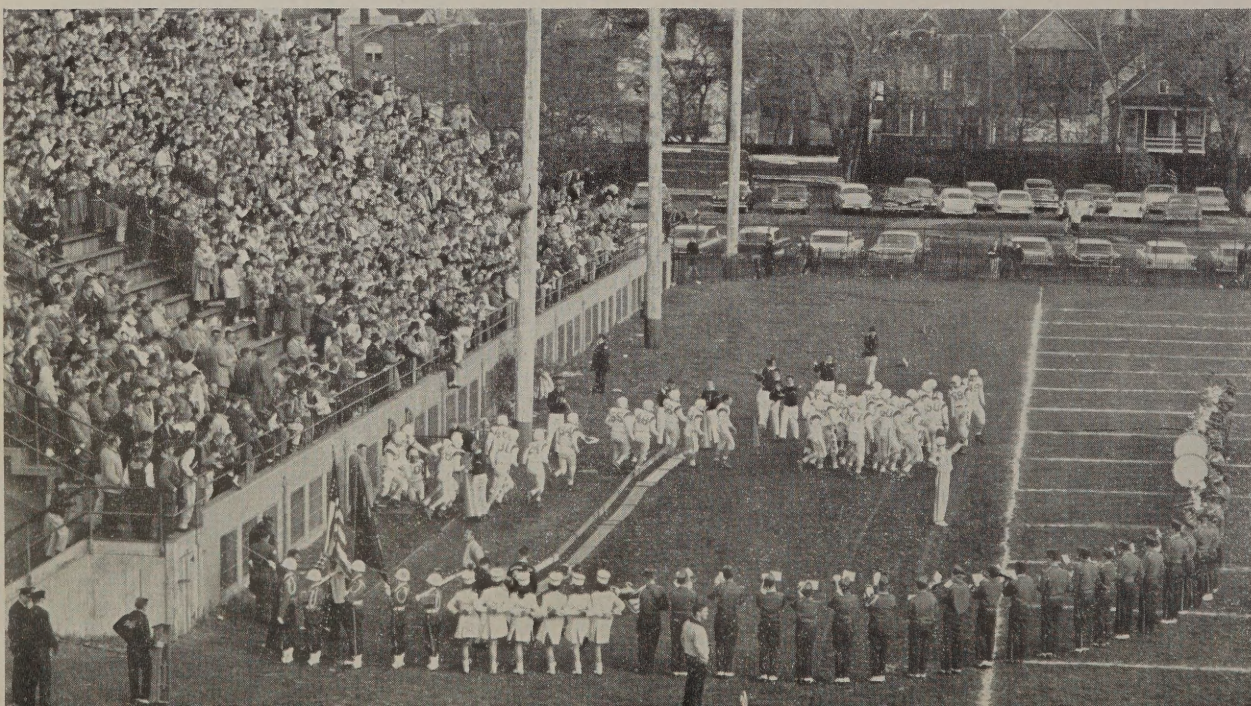

REVEREND MARTIN J. O'NEILL

ONENESS

In the tradition of Mendel, Oneness does not mean mere conformity, but Unity. Mendel Men are one in body, soul, and spirit. Whether cheering together at a football game or praying together in the school chapel, they exhibit the Oneness and Sanctity that is Mendel.

The Unity of Mendel is well expressed as Father O'Neill at a student rally, the Mendel Men in the stands, and the Mendel organizations on the field work together to gain their desired goal.

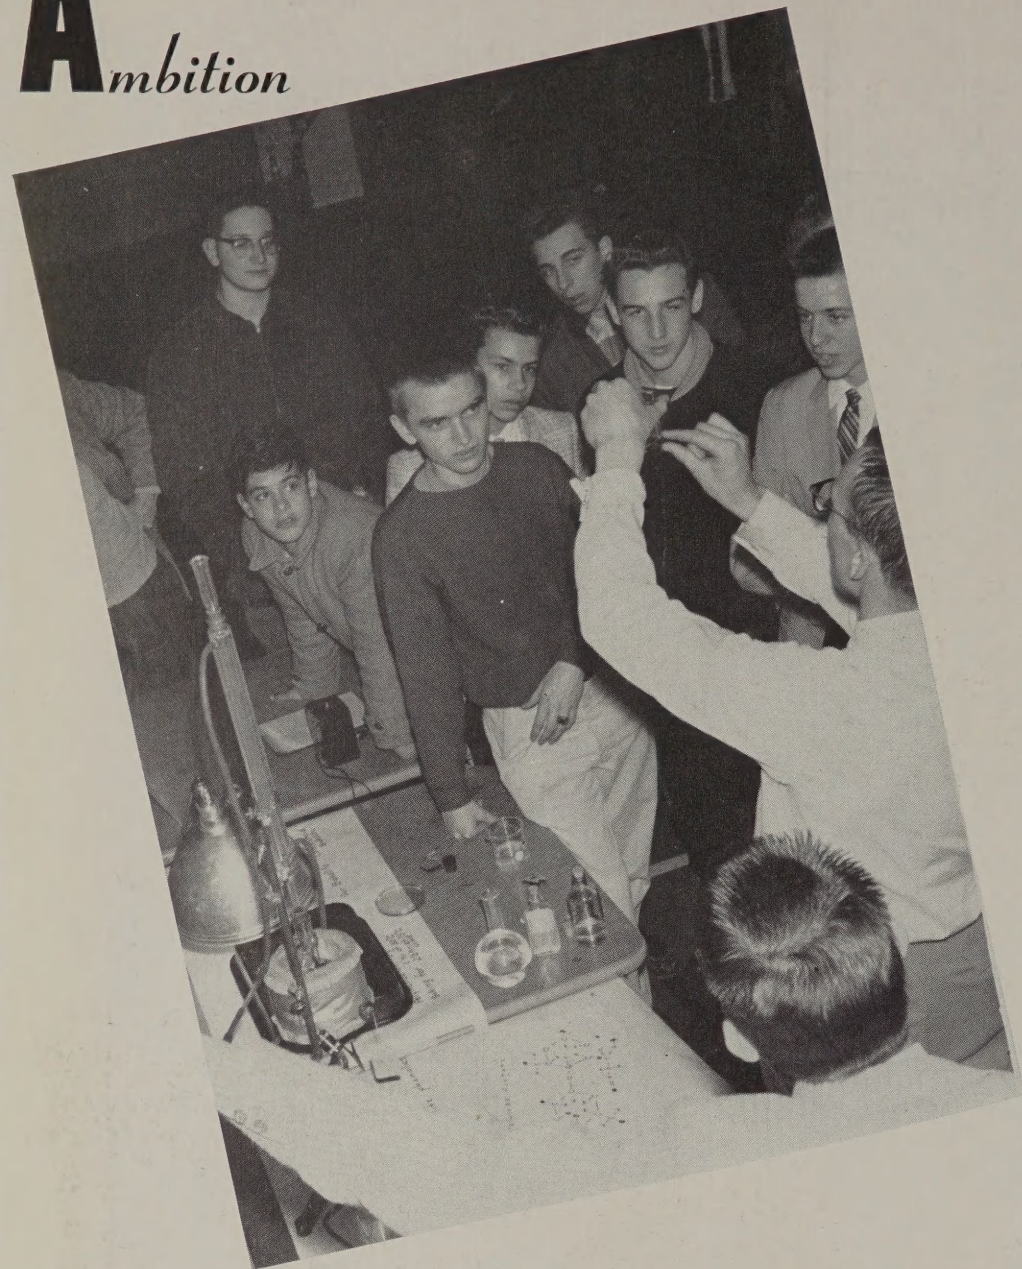

The Mendel tradition is also exemplified in the religious life of the Mendel Men. Here Fr. O'Neill gives the final blessing at one of the weekly class Masses.

As he raises his hand the Mendel Men bow their heads in prayer, in silent tribute to their God. For it is from their attendance at Mass, in their hourly class prayers, in their religious classes, and, what is by far most important, in their everyday lives, that Mendel Men exhibit minute by minute, hour by hour, the Sanctity that is Mendel.

Ambition

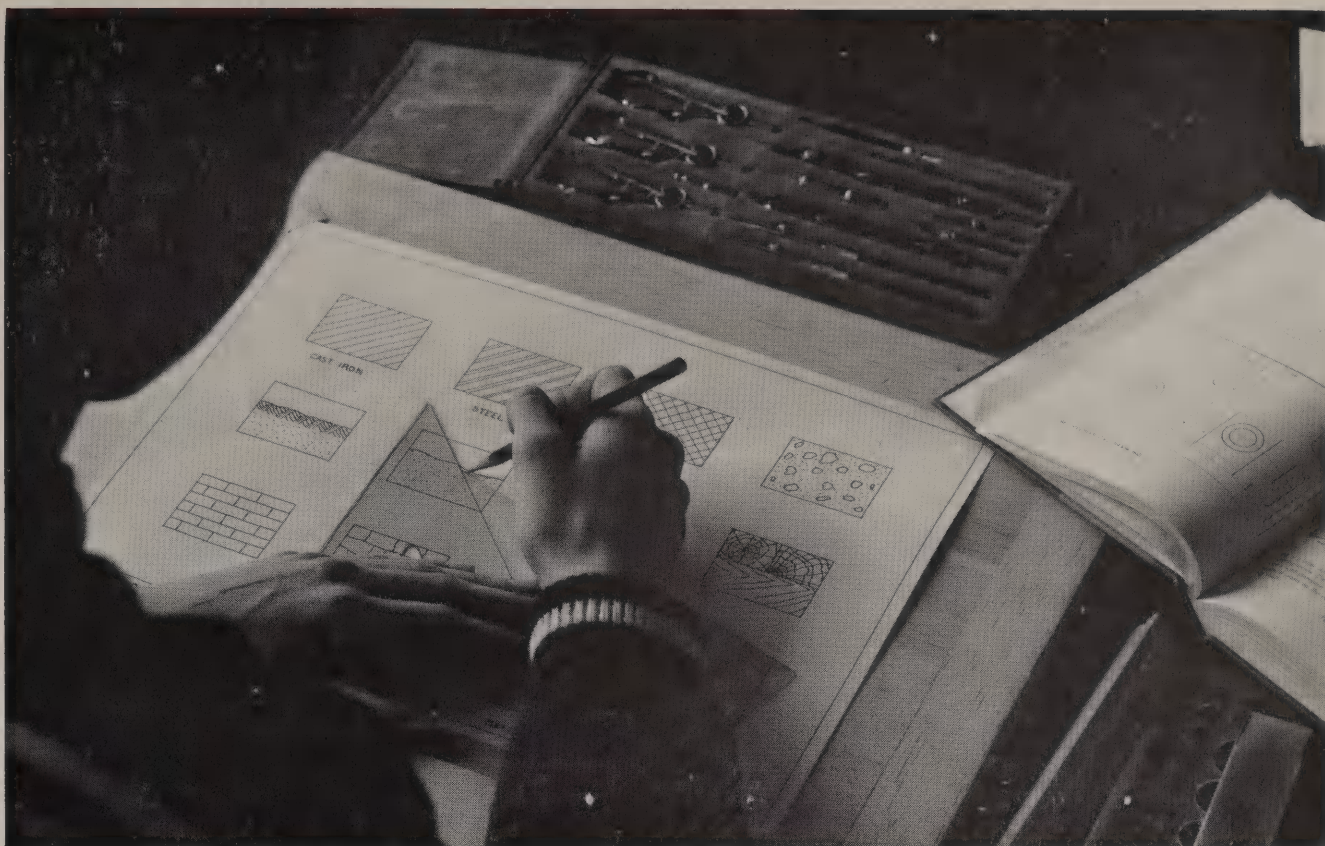

The tradition of Mendel includes ambition—the desire to succeed—which can best be seen in the achievement of the Men of Mendel. Ambition is reflected in the classroom world of words and ideas, in the laboratory, in the shop, and at the drawing board; but is also apparent in the co-curricular activities, the outside enterprises, and the numerous awards and honors presented to the Men of Mendel.

Among those ambitious Mendel Men who gained recognition for their outstanding scholastic abilities were twenty-two semi-finalists in the Illinois State Scholarship Program, including Michael Gleason and James Palanchar who also were finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying exams. In the field of science, Frank Wittosch gained the top award in the Illinois State Science Fair with his jet engine science project.

ILLINOIS STATE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM SEMI-FINALISTS

Top Row: M. Jackowski, J. Jankiewicz, D. Gasick, J. DeCesari, F. Passen.
 Second Row: T. Popsen, J. Palanchar, J. Kapecki, E. Walski, J. Gibney, B. Klamecki, R. Armstrong, J. Sevic, R. Paul, T. Marcisz.
 Seated: P. Carvey, J. Prystalski, J. Woycheese, Fr. O'Neill, W. Keating, J. Krzyminski, T. Durkin, P. Wilson.

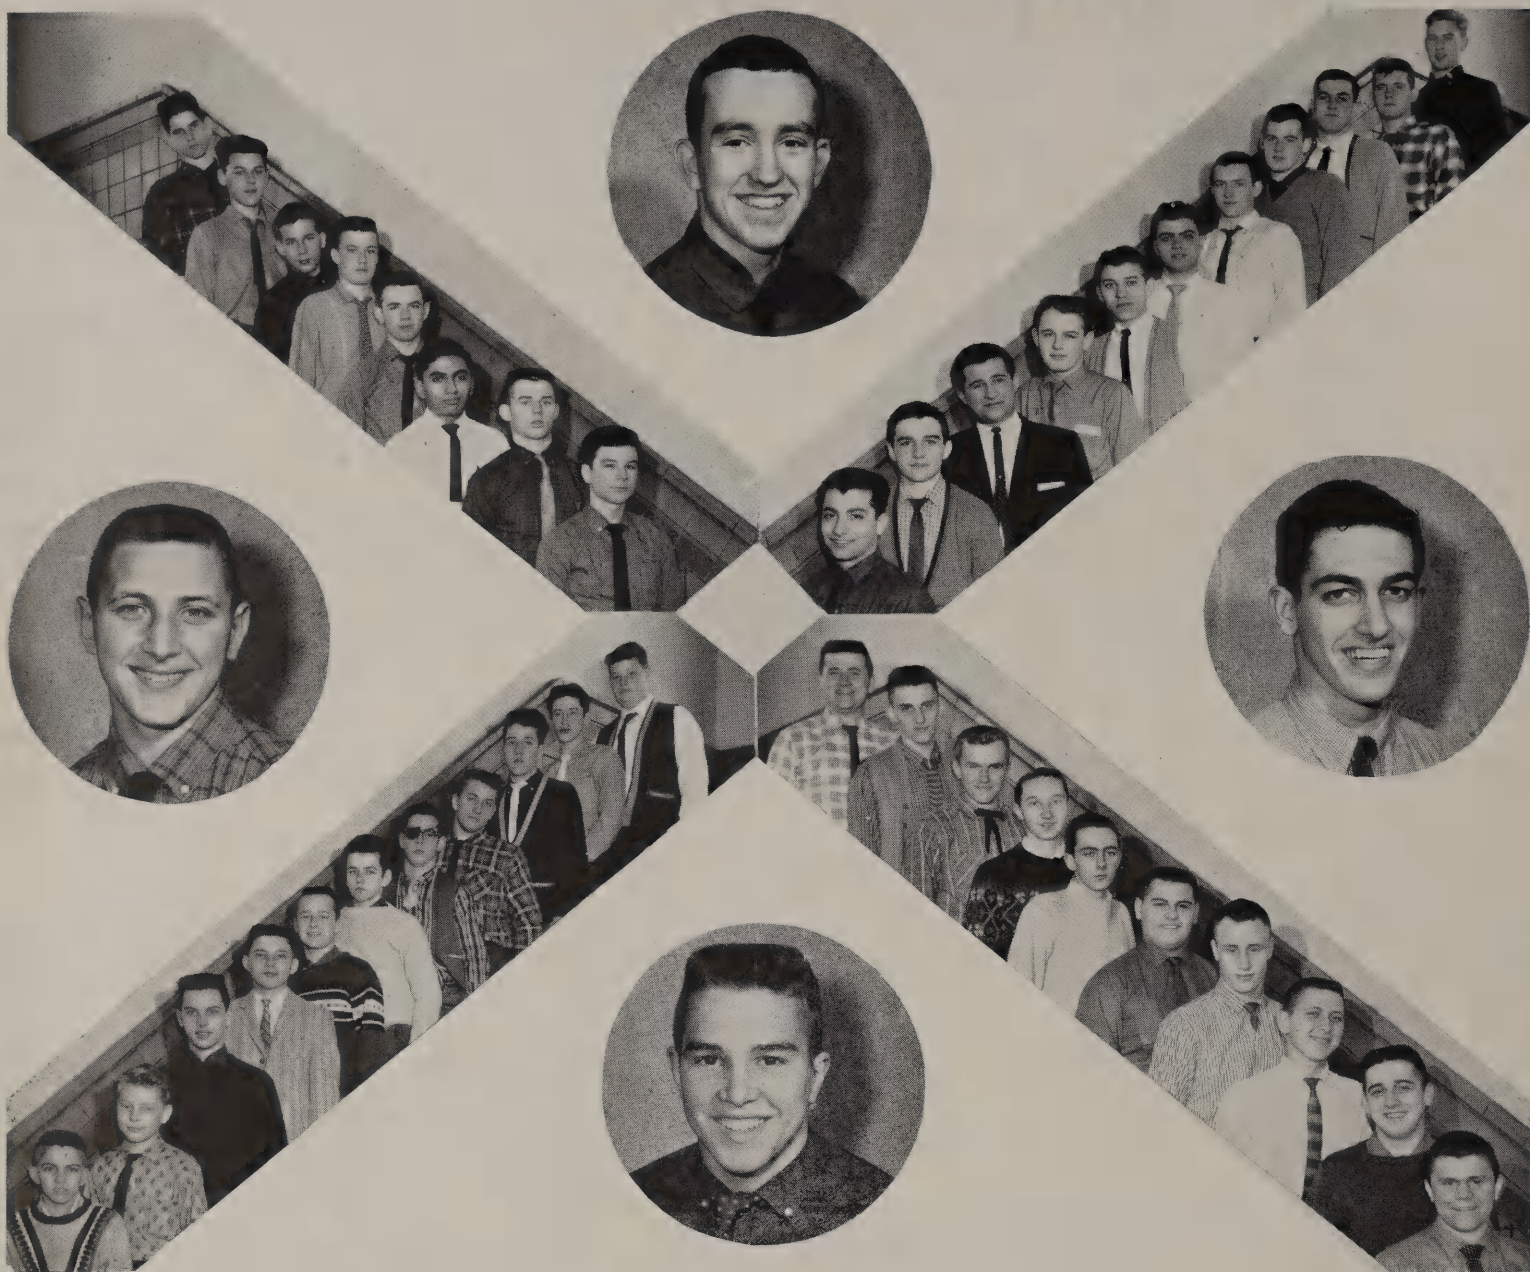

Ambitious Monarchs were active in other fields of endeavor — in journalistic competition, Jon Kapecki won the Ford Motor Company Journalism Scholarship; in sports, Joseph Farrell was selected to the Illinois State All-Star Football Team; and in civic affairs, Patrick Pagni served as Co-Chairman and honorary Chicago Police Commissioner during the 1960 Junior Achievement Week. All of these Mendel Men show ambition at its finest — in true achievement.

"Seek and ye shall find . . ." To achieve one must desire, one must work, and one must pray. As athletes, as scholars, as citizens, as Christians, Mendel Men display an Ambition that can lead only to achievement—an Ambition that is truly Mendel.

Oneness, Sanctity, Ambition — the Soul, the Spirit, and the Life of Mendel.

THE CENTER OF LEARNING

LEARNING AND ITS GOAL

Learning takes place in the minds of men. Good books and good teachers are only the tools with which the inquiring mind works in its quest for knowledge.

By working in union with his teachers and fellow students, by praying to God for assistance, and by desiring to succeed to the best of his ability, every student will learn, and in learning will grasp that knowledge with which he can live a useful life and earn his place in eternity.

LEARNING AT MENDEL

A school is more than buildings, teachers, books, and students. It is a place where there is an atmosphere conducive to learning, where present problems can be settled, and plans for the future can be formulated.

Mendel with its educational facilities, its counseling programs, its testing and career education programs is truly a place of learning.

VERY REV. JOHN L. SEARY, O.S.A.

Provincial of Our Lady of Good

Counsel Province

It was under the guidance of Fr. Seary as rector that the Men of Mendel first developed the famous spirit of Mendel which has been passed down from class to class. And now it is under his guidance as provincial that Mendel maintains these traditions of Oneness, Sanctity, and Ambition.

VERY REV. FREDERICK J. WINN, O.S.A.

Prior and Assistant Rector

Though the school consists of more than buildings, the school could not exist without its physical plant. Father Winn as Prior at Mendel has the responsibility of keeping the school buildings in condition so that they may perform their part in the education process. As Assistant Rector, Father Winn serves as an advisor in the administration of the educational program at Mendel.

Mendel Administrators

Rev. Robert Verstynen, O.S.A.
Vice Rector of Studies and Supervision

Though the school consists of more than books and teachers, the school could not exist without its educators. It is Father Verstynen's duty to see to it that each student is provided with the tools for his education. He also must formulate a program which year by year brings to the student an ever broadening knowledge of reality based upon his past learning.

Rev. John McNabb, O.S.A.
Vice Rector of Guidance and Student Activities

Though the school consists of more than students, the school could not exist without these willing minds desiring to learn. Father McNabb provides the guidance information necessary for each student to make reasonable decisions for today and for the future.

Mendel Administrators

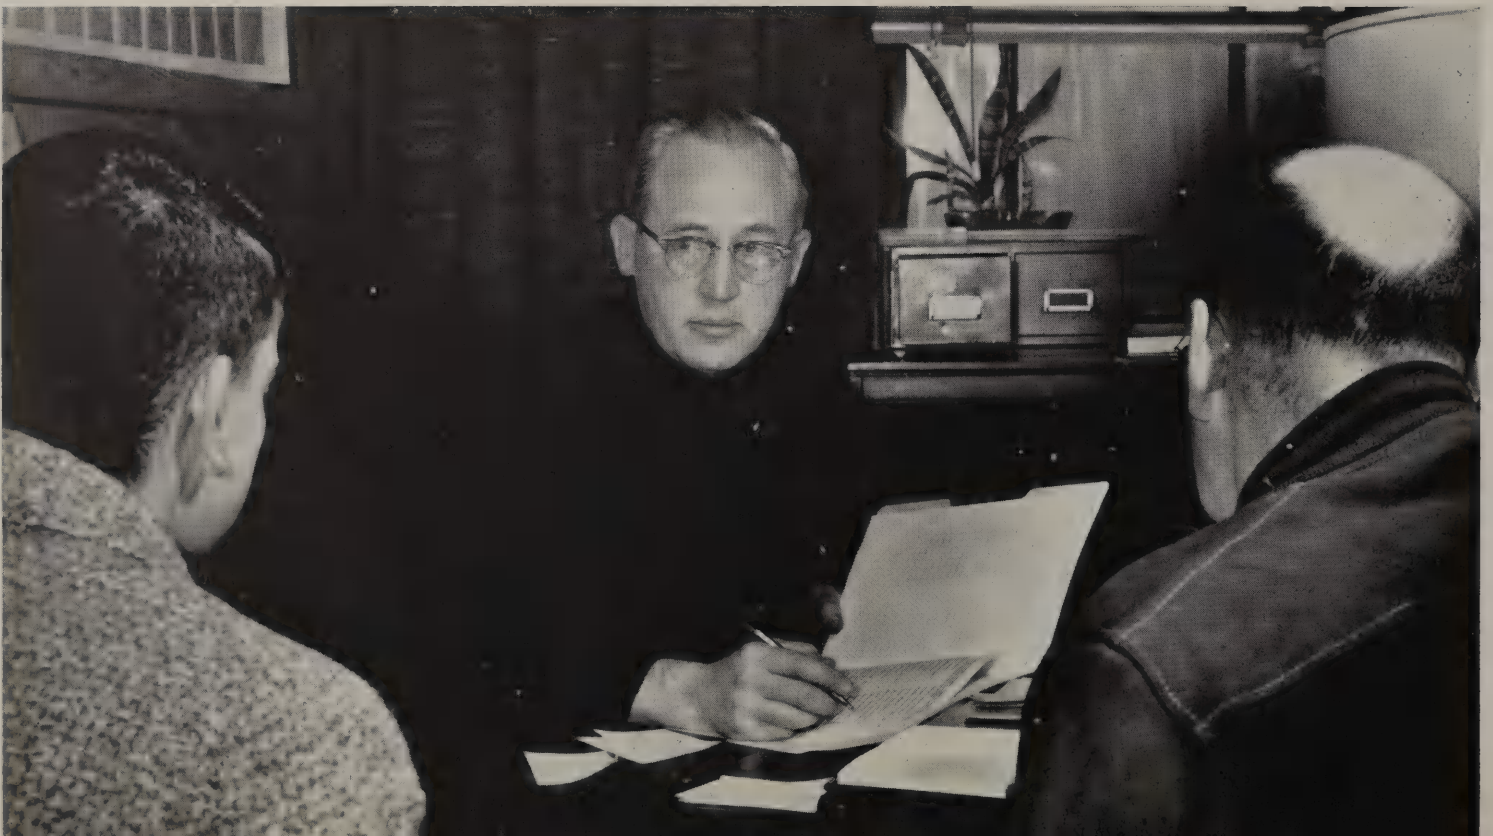

Rev. Edward Grace, O.S.A.
Procurator

All of the functions of the school depend upon the existence of material things from which the students can learn. Father Grace has the responsibility of seeing that the physical needs of the students, from chalk, to books and desks, are available when and where they are needed.

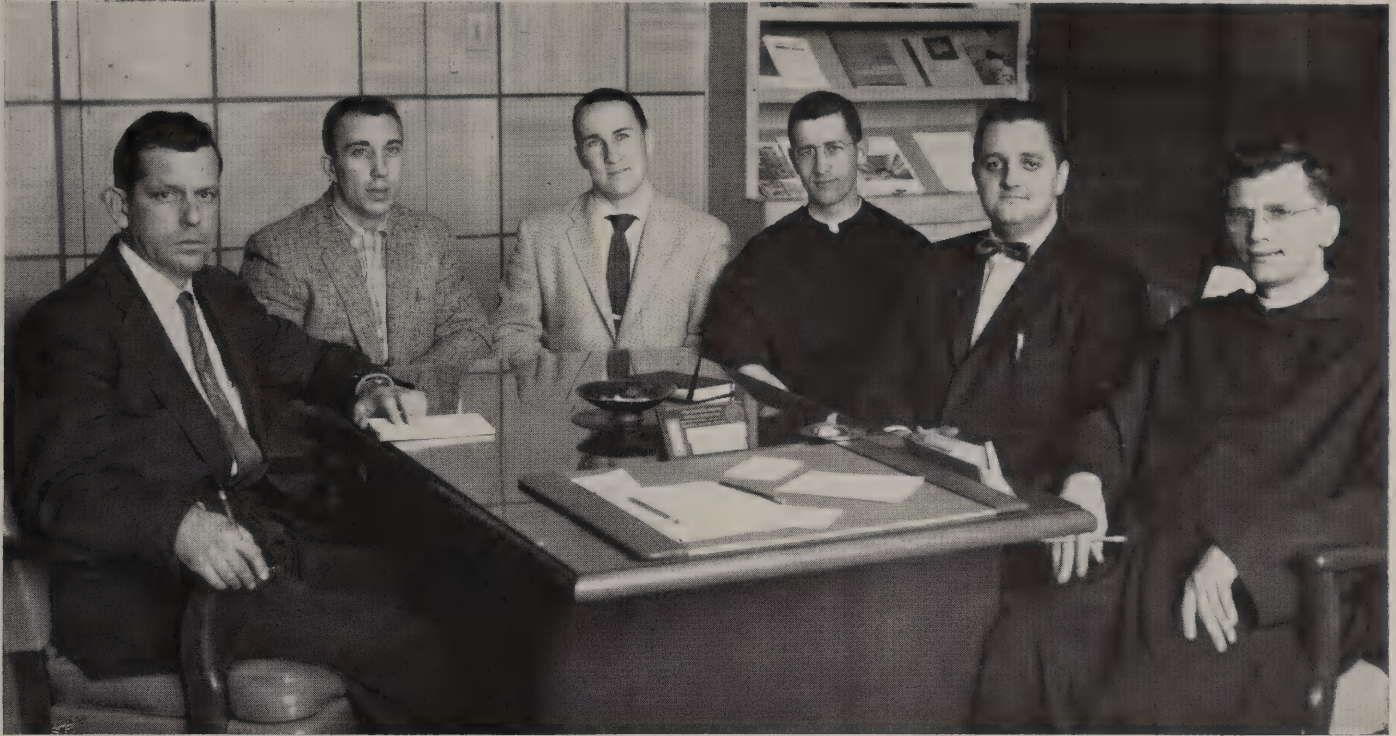

Rev. Daniel Hartigan, O.S.A.
Vice-Rector of Student Conduct

In order for the school to function properly, it is necessary that there be an atmosphere conducive to learning. It is Father Hartigan who has been assigned the duty of seeing that the regulations which will maintain the necessary conditions for learning are maintained by the students.

Deans of Departments

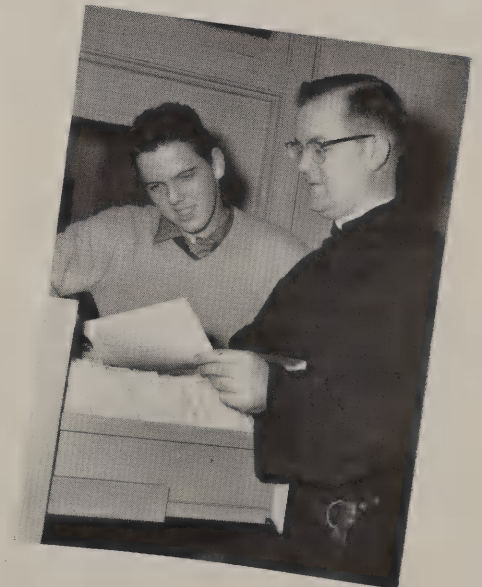

Mr. Thaddeus Osowski, Mr. William Allen, Mr. Joseph Phelan, Fr. Alfred Burke, Mr. Edward Novak, Fr. Ronald Turcich.

Working in conjunction with Father O'Neill and the other members of the administration, it is the task of the Deans to formulate and guide the classroom learning situations so that they are directed towards the educational goals expected of a Catholic school.

Guidance Program

Dr. John H. O'Neill, guidance counselor aids a student to a better knowledge of post-graduation opportunities.

Fr. John McNabb, Vice-Rector of guidance, provides a student with career information from Mendel's Career Information Library.

A most extensive guidance and counseling program has been instituted at Mendel, providing everything from class discussions to batteries of tests which aid the student to a better understanding of himself. In addition each student is given personal conferences with trained guidance counselors in order that he might better prepare today for his future.

ARTICULATION DAY

Another part of Mendel's education program is Articulation Day—a day on which the Mendel faculty meets with grade school teachers. Problems which they have in common or the problems of students passing from the grades into the high school may be discussed, and perhaps some conclusions may be reached which may alleviate the problems.

COLLEGE DAY

On College Day representatives from all colleges in which Mendel students have shown an interest are invited to the school in order that they might give the students a better understanding of the programs and services available at their various colleges.

CAREER DAY

On Career Day representatives from the professions, businesses and industries are invited to Mendel in order that they might give the students a better understanding of the work, pay, and possibilities of advancements that are available in their individual job areas. Both of these conferences provide valuable information for the Mendel students in planning their futures.

MENDEL SPIRIT ON THE MOVE

The spirit of Mendel is usually thought to exist in the students alone. However, this is not true. For in the various organizations of Mendel friends, there is a spirit which is just as strong and faithful as the spirit which exists among the students.

In the following pages the Mendel Alumni Association, the Mendel Father's Club, the Mendel Mother's Club, and the Mendel Music Association will be shown displaying this Mendel Spirit.

All of these groups have shown a love and devotion to Mendel which reflects the same Oneness in act, the same spiritual drive, and the same ambition to serve which so well marks the Men of Mendel.

IN THE SOCIAL WHIRL

SOCIAL LIFE AT MENDEL

This year's social calendar, like that of every other year, was filled with an almost continuous succession of formal and informal dances, special parties, award dinners, and elegant dinner-dance productions.

CONTENTS

1. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
2. FATHERS'S CLUB
3. MOTHER'S CLUB
4. JUNIOR WEEK
5. PRINCIPAL'S BALL
6. GRADUATION AND PROM

The students, their parents, alumni, and members of the faculty have all had the opportunity to take part in this sparkling array of affairs. But, as usual, the finest hours came during the gala prom and solemn graduation.

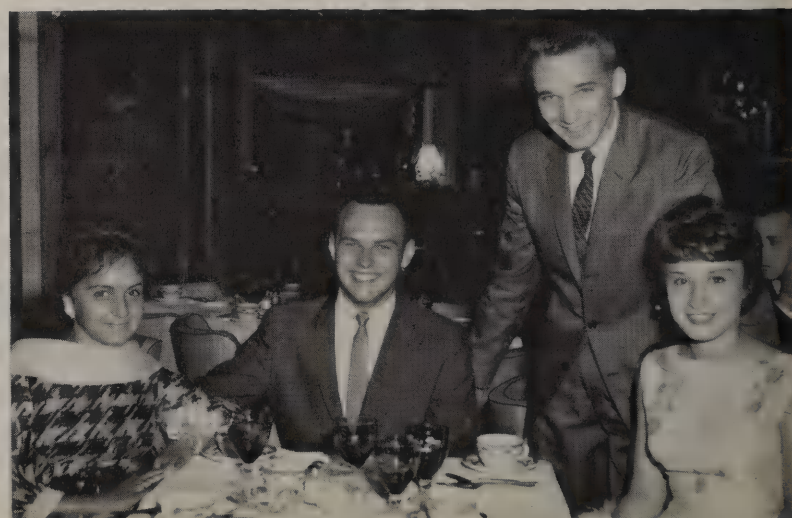

Mendel Alumni Association

Every man at Mendel can look forward to the day when he will become a member of the Mendel Alumni. In this organization he will discover the spirit engendered by its founder, Fr. Seary, still operating under the guidance of Fr. McNabb, the Alumni's present moderator. The Alumni social activities include monthly meetings, A Christmas dance, an annual banquet, and a summer outing. Spiritually the Association provides the Mendel graduates with a day of recollection, a monthly Mass, and an annual Communion breakfast. As the years increase the membership in the Alumni Association, the spirit of Mendel will enjoy a similar increase in devotion from the Men of Mendel.

Father's Club

The Father's Club, under the guidance of Fr. Winn, once again has had a successful year. Besides the monthly meetings, the Fathers Club sponsored a "Jim Lounsberry Record Hop" for the students, took a major part in the fund raising activities of the school, and held their annual dinner dance. Under the leadership of this year's officers, the Fathers once again showed themselves as an invaluable asset to Mendel.

Mother's Club

The Mendel Mothers had another exciting year, once again under the inspiring moderation of Fr. O'Rourke. This year's officers saw to it that the club's activities, the May crowning, the Christmas Party, the Annual Card Party, the Fashion Show, Theater Party, and the monthly meetings functioned smoothly. Without the devotion of the Mothers of Mendel, the school would lose a tremendous part of that vitality with which it has been blessed.

Junior Week - 1960

Each year the juniors at Mendel enjoy the social prominence afforded by Junior Week. During these fleeting days the Juniors take part in the Mass with their mothers, the Mother and Son Breakfast, the Father and Son Night, and the Junior Prom. This year, Fr. O'Rourke, the Junior class moderator, had the program for the week planned to perfection, and in consequence the class of 1961 will long remember the joys of Junior Week—1960.

Principal's Ball

The highlight of the school's social season was the Principal's Ball. Once again held at Willowbrook Ball Room, the dance provided all of the students, their parents, and the faculty with a night of dancing and fascinating entertainment. Before the night was through, the annual drawing for the raffle prizes was made and pretty Miss Jane McNulty, sponsored by senior Robert Buchanan, was crowned queen of the Principal's Ball.

Dining, conversing, and dancing, the Mendel men and their dates enjoy the evening of the Principal's Ball.

Senior Graduation and Prom

For the seniors, the most impressive hours of their lives at Mendel were those spent at the Graduation ceremonies and at their Senior Prom. However, the fleeting joys of the dance were greatly outweighed in their minds by the feeling which came to them during the graduation ceremonies as their valedictorian, David Cox, and salutatorian, William Keating, brought to them the awareness that they had now passed another of the great milestones in their lives. Their life at Mendel was now behind them, but the spirit of Mendel would be behind them forever.

Seniors R. Czarnecki, R. Chesi, D. Gasick, and M. Jackowski with their prom dates enjoy the once in lifetime pleasure of the Senior Prom.

M E N D E L

At Mendel, to live through a homecoming is to live through a great experience. The emotion charged week roars along at an exciting clip as event after event rushes by the gasping spectator—building the great bonfire, planning the poster contest, getting dates for the weekend dances, the bonfire and fireworks, the rally and dance in the gym, decorating floats for the parade, marching for the homecoming game, the big game itself, the victory dance — all of them blur into one wonderful spectacle. This is the spirit of Mendel.

HOMECOMING

Lunchtime's Little Theater

Margaret Ponsiego, Leo Lindbloom, Mike Hickey, Frank Bemis, and Tom Hickey.

Leo all set to dish it out.

The only period of the day that Mendel students will unanimously agree is "one of my favorite periods" is the lunch period. It enjoys this popularity primarily because it is during this hour that the student can pacify the ravenous appetite which takes hold of him during the morning hours. Secondly, the student finally gets a chance to just plain relax.

Officer William Maslanka

Faculty takes time out to relax in the faculty lounge.

Neither wind, nor rain, nor sleet keeps these Monarch fans from their appointed places.

Nor can the heat of an unseasonable autumn day cause their enthusiasm to wilt.

The Spirit of Mendel

Can you see the spirit of Mendel? Perhaps not the spirit itself, but here are a few pictures which reflect this great Monarch asset. The Monarchs in their own way bring to their families and friends the infectious Mendel spirit which buoys up the teams and brings priceless unity to the Monarchs.

The banner waving, the bugle sounding, the Monarchs prepare for battle.

The day arrived, the Monarchs debark to meet the foe, not in ones or twos, but together—for this is the spirit of Mendel.

Future Business Leaders of America

For those men who intend to take a place in the business world, Fr. Turcich has formed Mendel's newest co-curricular organization, the Future Business Leaders of America. Besides field trips to the International Business Machine processing office in the Loop and a tour of the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company plant and office, the members of this organization take time to study together to learn more about and better understand the ways and methods of modern business.

In addition the Key Club supervised the New World Drive at Mendel and helped to underwrite and distribute football programs at Mendel playoff games. Key Club members have given both the school and the community a fine example of the spirit of Mendel Men.

Chess Club

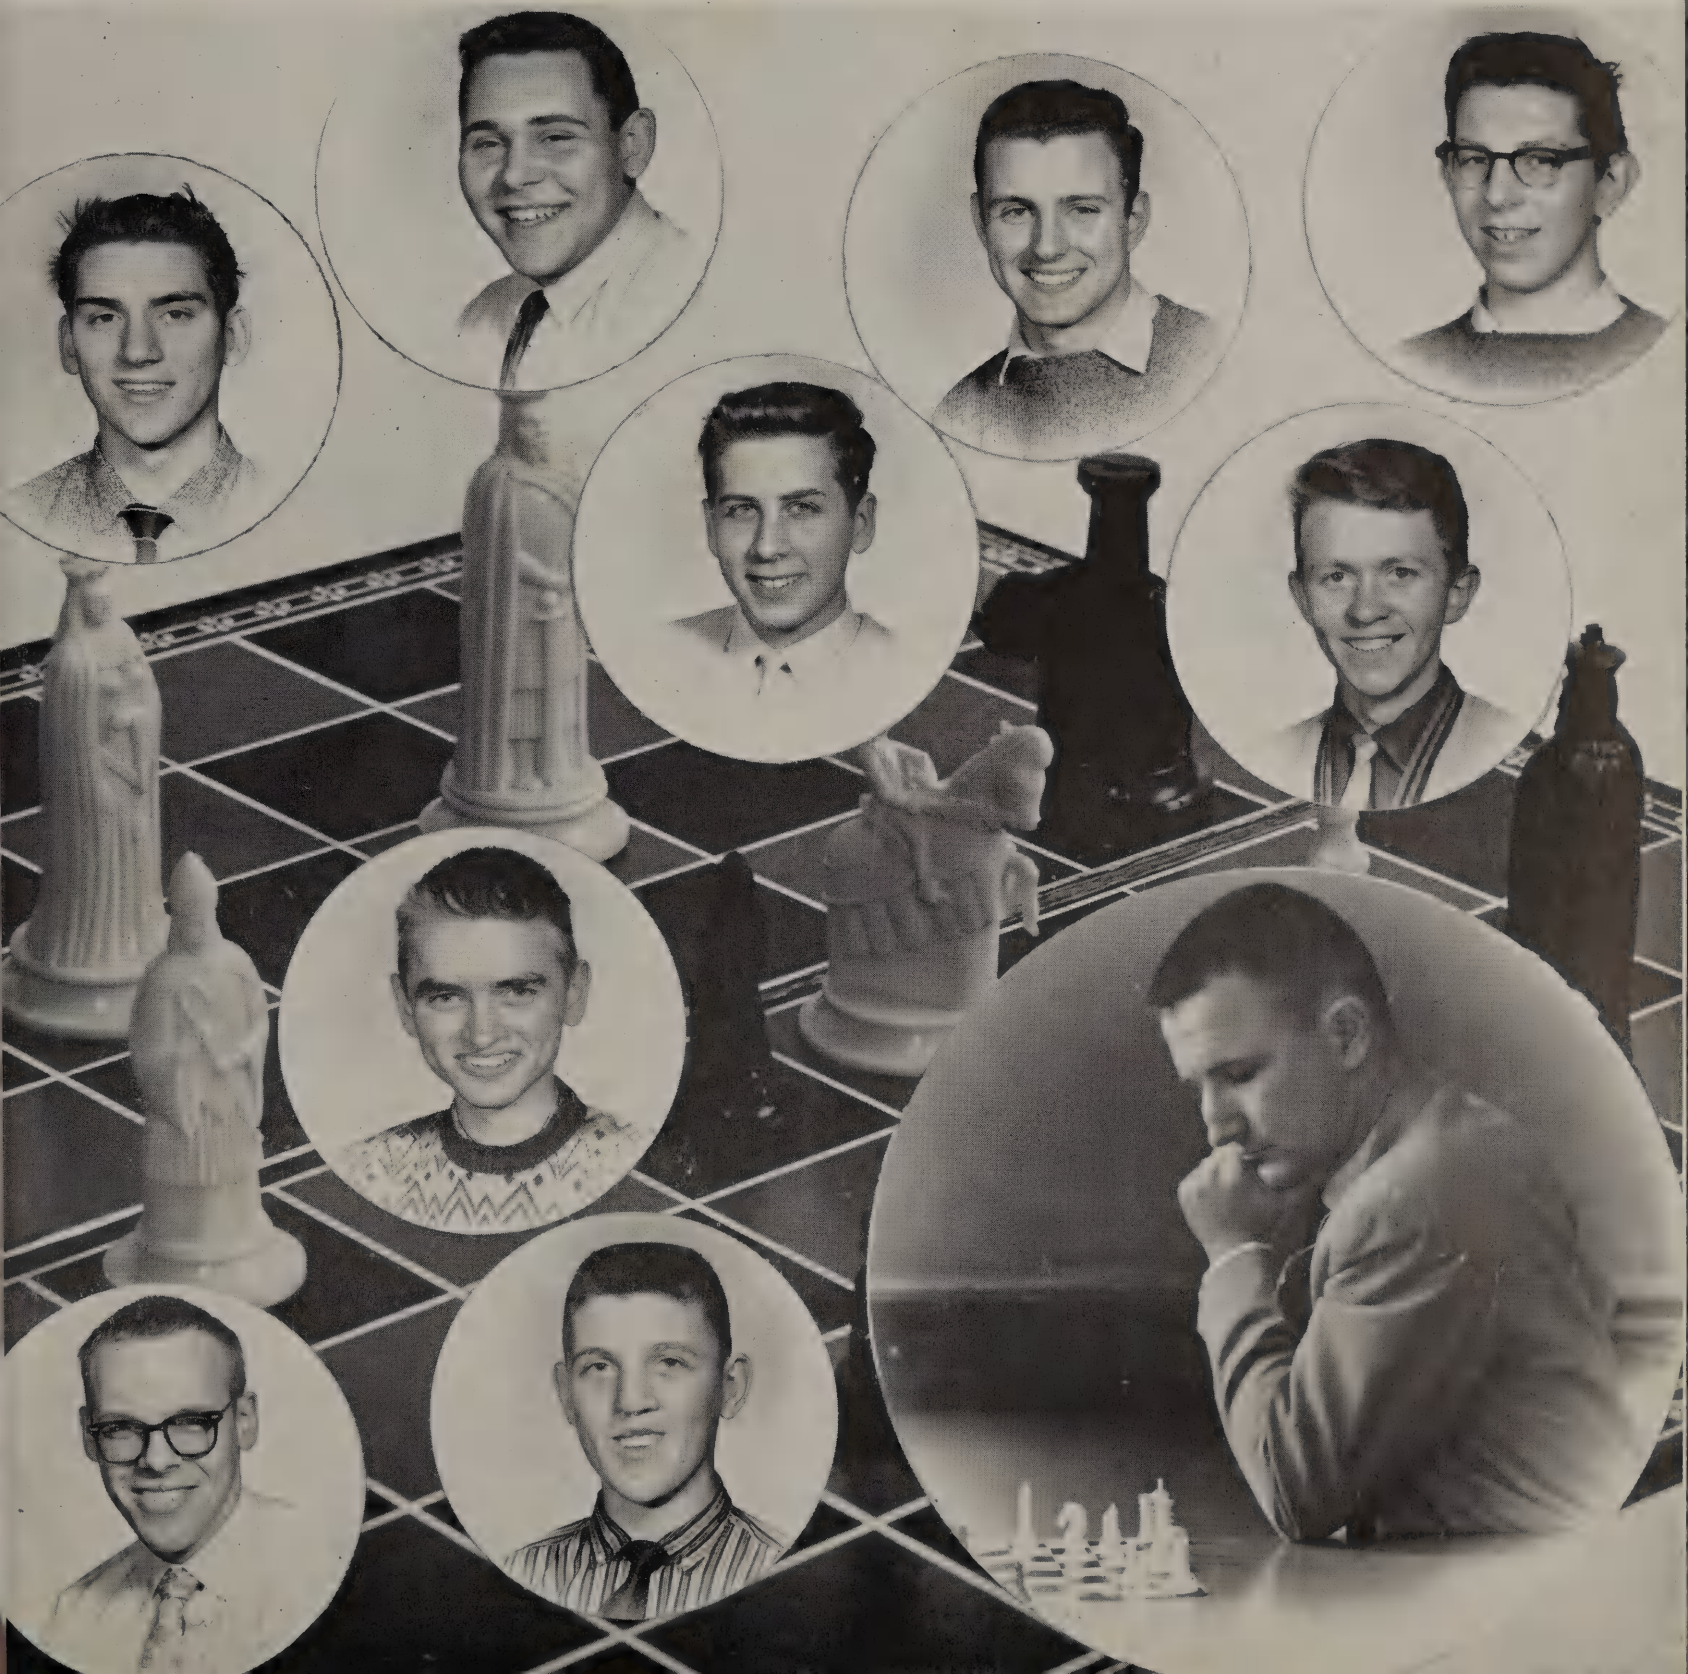

Logic, planning, foresight, and concentration are those valuable faculties which are developed by the students who take part in the activities of the Mendel Chess Club. Under the tutorage of Mr. Magee, the students pictured below, and many other underclassmen, struggle to learn and eventually master the art of chess playing and at the same time to exercise their mental faculties in the unique way provided for in the ancient game of chess.

The task of caring for the thousands of volumes in the Mendel Library has been assumed by the members of the Library Club. Under the direction of Mr. La Morte and Miss Oedzes these ambitious Monarchs see that the books and card catalogues are kept in the proper order and also help to operate the charging desk in the library. This experience not only enables these men to learn the methods of library science, but also allows them to become acquainted with literature from all of the various fields of knowledge.

The staff of the 1960 Mendel yearbook, The Monarch, realize that their efforts alone did not create this annual. Consequently, they want to thank Fr. O'Neill and the other members of the administration, the office staff, the faculty, and the student body for their cooperation and, in many cases, individual efforts in bringing out this book. Deserving of special mention are the Milton Studios for their wonderful help with the photography, and from among their own members, James Byrnes for his redesign of the cover and for the inside cover artwork. We hope all of you enjoy the fruits of our efforts.

A Day at Mendel

An interesting lecture? Or perhaps a guest speaker with some new ideas. These seniors listen to learn.

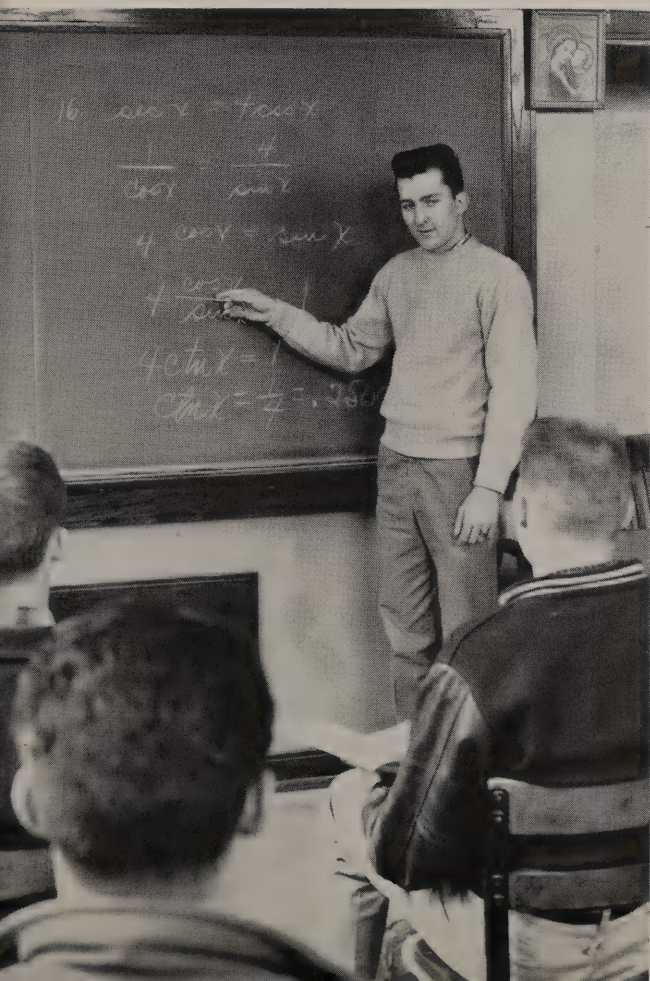

Education comes in many forms and guises —As a student passes through his four years at Mendel, he will become acquainted with almost every possible teaching method. The classroom, the laboratory, and the shop are the normal scenes in which the education process takes place, but the route is accentuated from time to time with guest speakers or with field trips to some industrial or institutional site. But by taking a normal class day, and peering into the classroom at Mendel, the education of a Mendel Man can be seen in act. This is what the following pages will show—the education of a Mendel Man—for this is a Day at Mendel.

Learning by doing. G. Ruther, J. Kortas, D. Kosto, and J. Sitko absorbed in their work.

Learning by experiment. J. Ugo, D. Adduci, B. Briscoe, J. Eyrnes, and J. Berenza in the physics laboratory.

To really learn a subject, teach the subject. Here J. Cole explains a problem in trigonometry to his classmates.

Learn by example. Mr. Racich points out to F. Rudell the proper way to prepare work for blueprinting. C. Bostedo works in the background.

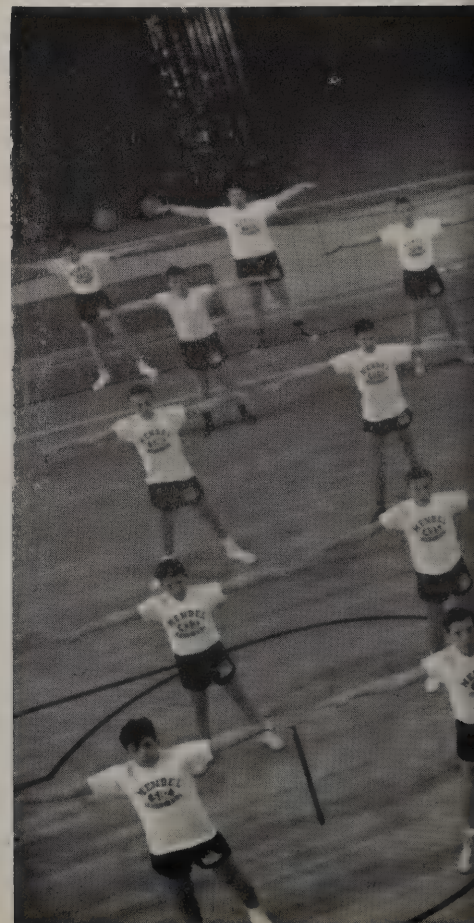

Experience is the best teacher. Woodshop class gains this valuable experience.

A Day at Mendel

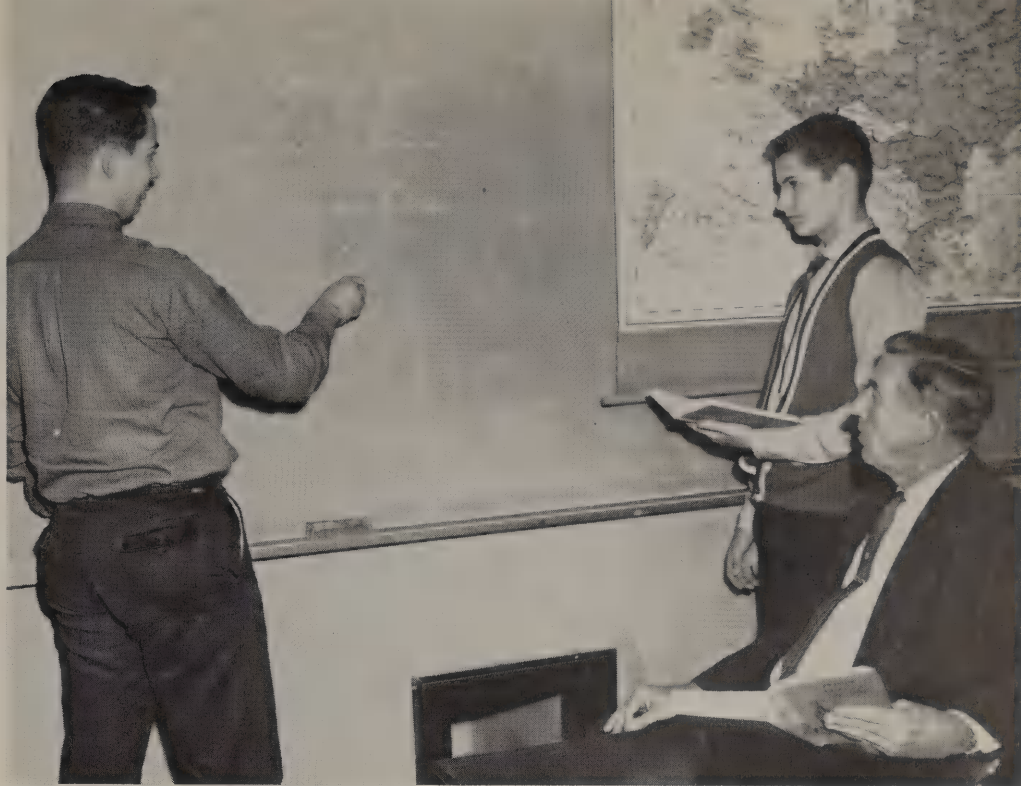

One picture is worth the thousand words. Using visual aid materials, Mr. Davis instructs Mendel seniors.

As the mind needs exercise, so does the body. Freshman gym class, under the observation of Mr. Allen and Mr. Diamond, learns control of the body.

A Day at Mendel

Learning by drill. Spanish vocabulary is mastered by J. Boughey and S. Swantek under the observation of Mr. Delaney.

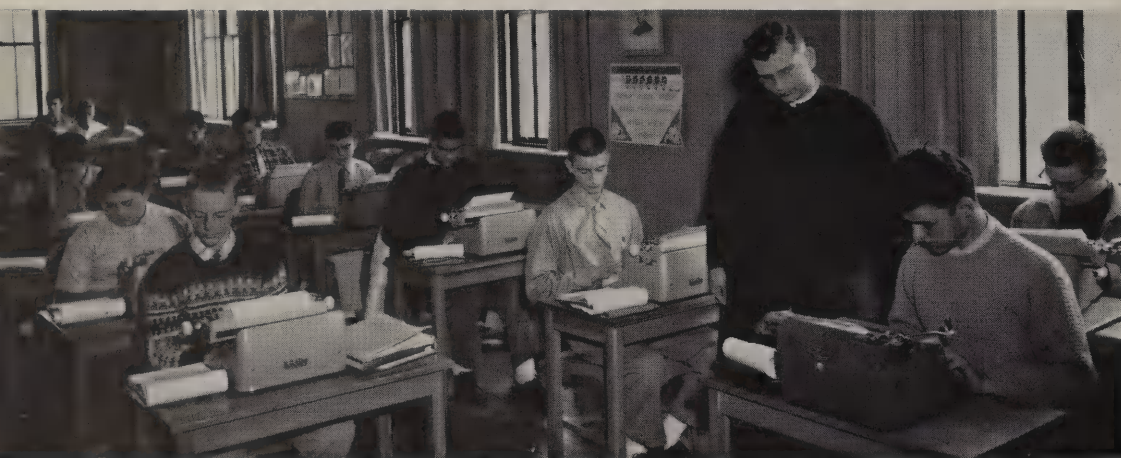

Trial by fire. Speech class of Fr. Durant learns the art of speech by speaking.

A Day at Mendel

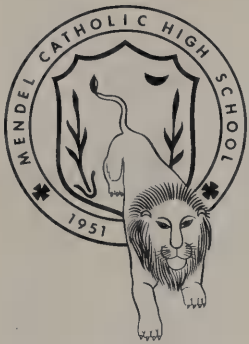

Learning by observation. Mr. McClintock instructs a biology class in the proper use of the microscope.

No hunt and pick system here. Fr. Turcich supervises a typing class in learning by following the method.

Discussion leads to understanding. M. Jackowski, J. Kapecki, and P. Carvey working together learn to master the German numbers system.

THE NEW LOOK FOR RELIGION AT MENDEL

Since the primary reason for the existence of Mendel is the Spiritual life provided for the students, it is only natural that Fr. O'Neill in his new look for Mendel made numerous changes in the Religion department.

Most notable of these new changes was the moving of the class Mass to the period following the third period of the day. This placement of the Mass not only allowed all students to attend Mass, but also permitted all students to receive Holy Communion in accordance with the new fasting regulations.

A second completely new addition to the religious life of the Mendel Men was the institution of First Friday Adoration. Each class section was provided a period on First Friday which was spent in adoration of the Blessed Sacrament in the school chapel.

A third change was an expansion of the confession schedule for the students. Priests were now available for confessions during the class Mass and after each class day.

This was in addition to the normal facilities provided by the priests for private conferences and confessions for the Mendel Men whenever they felt the need for special assistance.

SILVER JUBILEE MASS

In May 1959, the Mendel chapel was the scene of Father Joseph Hennessy's Silver Jubilee Mass. Fr. Hennessy's service to the Augustinian's and to Mendel is a perfect example of dedication to the spiritual values which Mendel brings to her students.

Religion at Mendel

The core of the educational program at Mendel is to be found in the operation of the Religion Department. Here the students take part in a continuous program of personal counseling, hourly class prayers, daily confessions, weekly religion classes, weekly class Masses, First Friday Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, and in the annual class retreats. From this great body of spiritual activity the student absorbs that unique Catholic attitude and bearing which marks him as a Man of Mendel.

Student stops for a talk with Fr. Brennan, head of the Religion Department.

Fr. O'Neil, with the assistance of R. Thurman, distributes Holy Communion to the seniors at one of their weekly class Masses

Religion at Mendel

The seniors were pleased to have Fr. Seary as their retreat master in this, their last year at Mendel. In his unique manner Fr. Seary brought home to these men the spiritual significance of the new life which awaits them as they depart from Mendel.

While attending the class Mass, seniors take advantage of the opportunity to have their Confessions heard.

Retreats at Tolentine Hall

In the quiet and solemn atmosphere of the Augustinian Major Seminary at Tolentine Hall, forty Mendel seniors made three-day closed retreats under the guidance of Fr. Joseph Hartmann, O.S.A. The spiritual insight gained at these retreats will never be forgotten by those men who took part in them, and the spiritual benefits brought back by these men will have a lasting effect at Mendel.

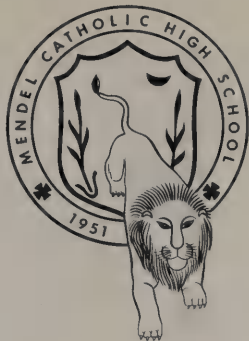

Seniors at table listen as a seminarian reads during the meals in the refectory.

P. Milak works and thinks in the seclusion of his room at Tolentine Hall.

ROUSING THE MONARCH'S SPIRIT

The Mendel Music Department under the direction of Mr. Gino Pacetti has given Mendel another year of exciting entertainment. The Marching Band performed at numerous affairs, among them parades for the Lions, Kiwanis, American Legion, Little League, St. Patrick's Day, Catholic Veterans of Foreign Wars, and for our own Homecoming.

The Concert Band and Chorus entertained audiences at the Winter and Spring Concerts and at the annual All-Catholic High School Concert at the Opera House.

The Mendel Dance Band played special programs at the Winter Concert and at Tolentine Hall, while also providing the beat for numerous South side dances.

MENDEL'S OWN MUSIC MEN

It is not necessary for the Monarchs to look far for talent when putting on a show. Ambitious Mendel Men and friends of Mendel come forward to add their voices and spirits to the offerings of the Monarch's entertainment groups.

Whether for a half-time revue in the dead of winter, a long parade in summer's heat, or a thrilling program in the comfort of the concert hall, our show-people are on hand to do their part for Mendel.

SOOTHING THE MONARCH

THAT MOVING SPIRIT

The spirit of Mendel is active in another non-student group, for the quality of the entertainment can be partly credited to the time and labor donated to Mendel by the Mendel Music Association.

In similar competition the Mendel Chorus took a second place in the annual Catholic High School Choral Contest. The band and the chorus united in presenting the winter and spring concerts, while the chorus on their own provided the liturgical music for the Anniversary Mass of Fr. The Mendel Music Association, made up of parents of students, this year sponsored a most successful fund drive for band instruments and music. The association members donated both time and labor at all of the appearances of the music department and in addition provided several parties and entertainments for the members of the band and chorus. The assistance of this organization is an invaluable asset to the music department and to Mendel.

Mendel Dances

Some of the best attended affairs on the 1950-1960 entertainment calendar were the dances held on the Mendel campus. The Sunday night socials attracted the Monarchs and the girls from the nearby Catholic high schools, enabling these devotees of Terpsichore to meet and practice their art. Other date dances held at Mendel benefited from these get-together dances as couples returned to enjoy some of Monarch's more formal dances.

MENDEL SPIRIT LEADS TO PLAYOFF BIRTH

The Monarch's had their big guns out on the gridiron again this year. Thanks to the efforts of Coach Joe Magee and the team, Mendel again entered the Catholic league playoffs and was eliminated only when she came up against Fenwick, who went on to win the league title. Besides the All-State selection, Joe Farrell, the Mendel team placed Denny Szot, Tom Goberville, and Bob Horvath on All-Conference teams.

On the field these men and their running mates displayed the team effort and the team unity and desire to win which has now become an inherent feature in any squad fielded by the Monarchs.

MONARCH NAMED ALL-STATE

The 1959 Monarchs were greatly honored when their Most Valuable Player, Joe Farrell, was selected as a member of the All-State team. On the field, in the classroom, and in his life at school Joe Farrell was at all times a true Man of Mendel.

MONARCH CAGERS DISPLAY NEVER-SAY-DIE SPIRIT

In the first round play of the 1959 basketball season the Mendel Varsity Basketball team suffered three heart-breaking one point losses which dropped the Monarchs out of contention for the championship. Losing games like these would crush the ordinary team, however the Monarchs, under the coaching of Joe Phelan, did not give up, but came back to defeat each of these same three teams in the second round of play.

No finer expression of the spirit of the Monarchs can be found than this. When things looked blackest, these men went on doing their part, still working together, still desiring success, still winning for Mendel. And another victory was posted for the spirit of Mendel.

The 1959 football season brought Mendel the usual thrills, excitement, and pride in victory as the Monarch varsity fought through the practice season, the regular league play, and finally into the Catholic league playoffs.

The practice season found Coach Magee testing his men and his tactics against two North Section teams, splitting with them, and then traveling to Milwaukee on a beautiful day only to be lulled into defeat at the hands of Pius XI.

The first three league games were taken by the Monarchs, their defense allowing only six points to each adversary. In the scoring column over Brother Rice, a run by Charlie O'Brien and passes from Denny Szot to Joe Farrell and Hugh Bell sewed up the victory.

Waters moves in for the take-down as O'Brien backs him up.

Szabo moves out around end as Goberville, Gaugish, and Dilger set themselves for downfield blocking.

Demling sees an opening and moves for it as he attempts to brush off a Weber defenseman.

Among the recognizable players after the DeLaSalle game were Waters, Luzi, McMahon, Szabo, Farrell, Wiltz, Buchanec, Goberville, Palowski, Murphy, Bell, Goral, Blum, Dailey, Demling and Evans.

Szot digs in as Weber player tries for a tackle.

In the De LaSalle conquest, played on a saturated Shrewbridge Field, the Monarchs came from behind a six point deficit with a 55 yard run by Farrell to tie, and then Bill Demling ran a sweep around end for the all important extra points to rack up the win. The Leo team next fell to the Monarchs as Jack Sambo scored on a 51 yard pass play from Szot. Runs of 59 and 41 yards by Demling climaxed the Mendel scoring.

The last two regular league games found the Monarchs behind in the final scoring. In the Homecoming Game against St. Rita only Farrell, on an 80 yard run, was able to break into paydirt. The Mt. Carmel game, a nip and tuck affair all the way, found Mendel scoring on a Farrell run, two goal line plunges by fullback Bob Horvath, and a Szot to Farrell pass. The PATs were added by Horvath and Szabo.

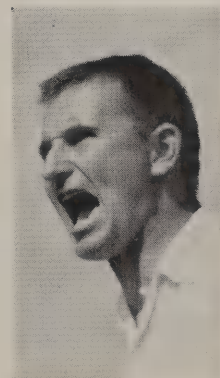

Demling shows his stuff as he takes in a Szot pass.

Bell leaps high to snare a pass from a would-be defender.

Demling takes off at a sprint as Blum lays back to block out potential tacklers.

The Monarchs then entered the playoff games, first knocking off Brother Rice with Farrell and Horvath runs and a Szot to Farrell pass; and then eliminating the North Section's St. George on a Farrell run, an interception and run-back by Horvath, and a blocked kick by Mike Dailey which Szot fell on in the endzone for another Mendel touchdown. Just before half-time the Monarch team hopes were dealt a severe blow when an injury put quarterback Szot out of action for the remainder of the season.

In the final game the Monarchs fought on, but without the seasoned play of quarterback Szot, they were not able to take to the air with their much feared scoring punch. Nonetheless Farrell was able to push over one final score for the team, as the Monarchs finished another truly satisfying season.

Track and Cross Country

Mendel's 1959-1960 track team benefited from the efforts of several exceptional individuals, among them Jim Novosel, Paul Miller, and Ed Moline, all of whom broke Junior Relay broadjump record. Another valuable member of the team was Roger Wiltz who placed second in the Loyola relays, while Fran Dioguardi, Jim Morris, and Pete Riermaier qualified for the hurdles and dashes in the All-City track meet. The Junior and Senior teams both took a third place in the South Section meet, and as the season progressed Coach Ray Doran held high hopes for a continued good showing in the Catholic League All-City contests.

Mendel Varsity Baseball Team

After losing key members of the 1959 Catholic League Championship team, the Monarch's responded to the call of "Play Ball" with a host of new standout players. Three seniors, pitcher Jack Czyz, third baseman Bernard Madej, and second baseman Lou Delliquadri, were named to the Catholic League All-Star Team. But the underclassmen were not to be denied as Bill Caul pitched his way undefeated through early league competition, Don Olson excelled at the plate and as a utility man on the bases and in the field, and Cyril Weber showed himself to be one of the league's outstanding fielding shortstops.

Varsity Baseball

In league competition the 1960 Monarch Varsity was not able to keep the pace set by last year's Championship team, but they consistently made appearances in the win column, finishing the season with a four and six record. Coach Fr. Gavin was pleased with the hustle of his men on the field, at the plate, and on the bases and recognizes this as a good omen for the Monarch's in future league play.

Mendel's senior singles netmen, Rick Peterson and John Woycheese, accompanied by junior singles players, Pete Callahan and Mike Schwarz, entered into pitched battles with competitors from St. Rita, Mount Carmel, Brother Rice, and St. Ignatius in the 1960 season as the Monarch's tennis team gained experience in this new inter-school sport. The doubles games matched teams of Ed Murphy-Jim Walsh and Robert Thelien-Gene Zajec while spare man Bill Hranka filled in whenever his services were needed. Fr. Turcich, acting as team moderator and coach, provided many valuable tips to the team which will undoubtedly aid them as they move ahead into future court competition.

Mr. Lou Guida—Coach

Mendel's latest entry into sports competition is the wrestling team. As a rule development of a winning team in this sport comes only after the team members have gained years of experience, however the Monarch mat-men have proved to be an exception to this rule. The Mendel wrestlers made a clean sweep of victories at the Chicago Park District area meet and were very successful during the inter-school matches, especially against schools with reputations as consistent winners in the tough Public League competition. Coach Lou Guida has done an excellent job in providing his men with the spirit and the know-how with which they have shown themselves to be another fine Mendel team.

Gorney, Driscoll and Gorrell jump high in effort to grab off the rebound which takes a high bounce off the rim.

Lenczycki captures the rebound as Gorrell comes up to aid him.

Jones and Stallings watch as Lenczycki tries for a tip-in.

Paralleling the heavies of the year before, the 1959-60 Monarchs jumped off to a remarkable practice season, and then played a disappointing league session. Although the heavies lost all of the first round's five games, three by one point, they rebounded to a 3-2 count in the second round to end league competition with 3 wins and 7 defeats. One of the highlights of the year was a precedent-breaking win over Leo in the Lion's own gym. Coach Phelan's five possessed good speed, ball-handling, and shooting; however, lack of height stymied the spirited Monarchs.

As Lenczycki reaches for the rebound, Driscoll and Stallings begin to break.

Tom Stallings, three years a starting guard on the varsity heavyweight basketball squad, was named before the start of the 1959-60 season as a starter on the De Paul University tournament team, and by the end of the season was acknowledged as one of the finest players in the city by being selected to the first string on the All-City cage team. Tom gave Mendel some of its biggest sports thrills, including a winning 41 point effort in the game against Detroit's Austin High School. He is a fine example to the Men of Mendel under the boards and in the classroom as well.

Driscoll comes down court and breaks into the corner for a shot.

Stallings takes a shot as Gorney, Lenczycki, and Driscoll wait for a possible attempt at a tip-in.

Lightweight Basketball Team

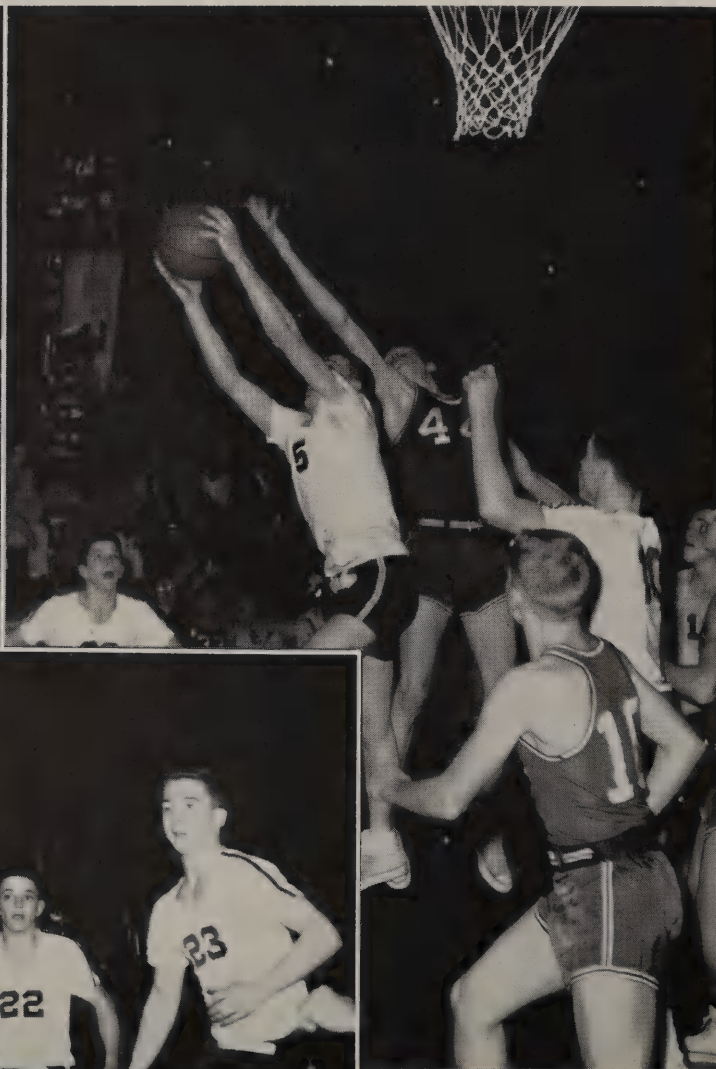

The Mendel lightweights, despite the loss of all but one member of the defending Catholic League starting lineup, started circuit competition with a rousing triumph over Brother Rice, but as the season continued were unable to maintain this pace. Captain Pete McWilliams, the only player with former starter status, and John Langan were the workhorses of the team as they entered a 3-7 tally on the record books.

Bantamweight Basketball Team

Mendel's bantamweights, often known as the junior heavyweights, enjoyed their finest season in fashioning a 13-4 mark under Coach Ray Doran. The bantams, composed of sky-scraping freshman and sophomore basketball players downed, at least once, every team they played. De LaSalle, kingpin of the roundball circuit fell to the junior Monarchs for the first time in league play. Jerry Jaros and Frank Urich toppled old Monarch scoring records, while Gene Smith, Bill Hennessy and Jack Manthey filled out the "Fear-some Five." Big things can be expected from these hoopsters as they join the Monarch heavies.

Midget Basketball Team

The midgets are a team made up of freshmen 5'0" and under which participates in several grade school tournaments. Coaches Fr. Gavin and Tom Napoli, a Mendel alumnus now at Loyola University, directed the scrappy Monarch team to a .500 win-loss percentage. Several players will seek births on next year's light-weight team.

Flyweight Basketball Team

The flies, the underclassman counterparts of the varsity lightweights, played an interesting brand of basketball, finishing the season with four wins and eleven losses. Coach Ray Doran's squad was led by Jim Derrick and Tom and Marty Moreno. An exceptionally bright spot in the frequently darkened flyweight picture was a victory over the highly-touted Meteors of De LaSalle. The flies, all under the maximum height of 5'8", and are the life-blood of the varsity lightweights.

Standing: E. Lang—Manager, T. Moreno, E. Smith.

Kneeling: D. Hudek, J. Derick, G. Jackson, Mr. R. Doran—Coach.

Bowling Teams

The Monarch keglers put in a big year in 1959-1960, most of their games being rolled at the nearby Rosebowl lanes. The Monarch's traveling team led the Catholic High School League in the early season, but as time wore on they dropped down in the standings. The Intramural League, made up of eighteen teams, competed for the school championship with the following results:
